

SharePoint 2003 User's Guide

SharePoint 2003 User's Guide from APress publishing takes a real-world look at the best practices for using Microsoft SharePoint 2003 to meet your business needs. You will gain the necessary information to use both the basic and advanced features of SharePoint Portal Server and Windows SharePoint Services. It includes step by step instructions for using these features along with helpful illustrations. This book also includes discussions on some of the most commonly implemented SharePoint solutions with descriptions of the features these solutions provide, sample scenarios, and instructions for building them.

Microsoft SharePoint Portal Server 2003 and Windows SharePoint Services address a variety of information-sharing and collaboration needs, providing an innovative way for you to manage information. In order to get the most out of SharePoint, you need to understand its capabilities to create materials, collaborate with others, and share enterprise information.

Whether you're a beginner or an experienced SharePoint user, SharePoint 2003 User's Guide is designed to provide you with the information you need to effectively use these tools. The authors, who are experienced SharePoint consultants, take a real-world look at the best practices for Microsoft SharePoint 2003 and include many detailed examples you can build on.

For more information about this book you can visit <http://www.apress.com/book/bookDisplay.html?bID=463> or you can order a copy of this book from Amazon.com or from Barnes & Noble.

Author Information

Seth Bates

Seth Bates is a software architect and practice manager for DataLan Corporation, the 2004 NY/NJ Microsoft Platform Partner of the Year located in White Plains, New York. Bates performed the technical editing for Microsoft SharePoint: Building Office 2003 Solutions and Advanced SharePoint Services Solutions. He was also published in the April 2005 edition of Dr. Dobb's Journal with an article titled "SharePoint Web Part Development." Bates has over 7 years of experience engineering business solutions, primarily using Microsoft technologies. With experience in all phases of the software engineering life cycle, he brings a broad mix of analysis, design, and implementation expertise to his work.

Tony Smith

Tony Smith is a product manager for DataLan Corporation, the 2004 NY/NJ Microsoft Platform Partner of the Year located in White Plains, New York. With a background that includes business analysis, network engineering, and application development, Smith has over 10 years of experience engineering business solutions, and regularly presents to engineers, analysts, and business decision makers. Tony has been working with a wide range of companies, including the subsidiaries of a Fortune 50 company, to design and deploy Microsoft SharePoint 2003 and Office System solutions since these products were made available.